9.4.a.2 On any occasion whereby the usage of a Recurring Time Services Agreement exceeds the commercial value, The Supplier reserves the right to levy a fair usage fee, against the 'overuse' of our time.

9.4.a.3 Where the total value of the Supplier's time consumed under the contract, in any given billing period, exceeds an effective 25% discount, when compared with the value of the Supplier's time, at the Supplier's current hourly rates, the Supplier shall be entitled to levy a fair usage overage charge in addition to the agreed fee.

9.4.a.4 The fair usage overage charge will be calculated by using the number of hours over and above the effective 25% discounted rate. Those number of hours will then be charged at the same 25% discounted hourly rate.

9.4.a.4.1 For example; if the Client Time subscriptions total value is £750 pcm, and the current standard hourly rate for the time is £75, then the fair usage limit is 13.3 hours for the billing period. If the Client uses 20 hours during the billing period, then the overage is 6.7 hours. This time would then be charged at the standard rate with 25% discount, in this example £56.50 per hour, totalling £376.88

9.4.a.5 The Supplier may reasonably determine whether the time consumed is billable or non-billable. Only billable time will be included in the fair usage calculation.

9.5 The Client acknowledges that by omitting to select any of the services offered by the Supplier, the Client is responsible for the consequences of omitting said services.

9.6 The Agreed Services are as described on the Quote(s) and/or Proposal(s), in agreeing the Quote(s) and/or Proposal(s), the Client acknowledges they are accurately described.

9.7 If there are no pre-arranged scheduled tasks agreed in writing, the Client acknowledges, none will take place.

9.8 If the agreed fee becomes commercially unsuitable for the Contract, the Supplier reserves the right to review the fee for the Contract at any time during the Contract. If the Client disagrees with the reviewed fee, they have the right to invoke the cancellation notice period as set out in these terms.

9.9 Limitations of Recurring Time Service Agreements and associated fees

9.9.e.4 that the fault relates to any device that has not been supplied and is currently supported by the Supplier under this Contract; or

9.9.e.5 the Supplier reasonably believes that the fault has been caused (wholly or in part) by damage or interference with equipment or software by the Client.

9.11 The Client acknowledges, due to the nature of the Services, it may not always be possible or practical to inform the Client of out of scope charges in advance of the work being completed. The Client acknowledges, the time completed by the Supplier in such a scenario is billable to the Client.

9.12 The Client acknowledges that the Supplier is not required to provide out of scope Services.

9.13 The Client acknowledges that the Supplier is entitled to charge on a time and materials basis when the Service is deemed out of scope by the Supplier.

9.25 The Client acknowledges that the Supplier shall charge any incurred time and/or equipment costs following any instruction given to it by the Client, which the Client then decides to terminate or pause prior to its completion.

9.26 The billing period will be determined by the Supplier and the Supplier reserves the right to adjust the period from time to time.

9.27 All amounts payable by the Client under the Contract are exclusive of amounts in respect of value added tax chargeable from time to time (VAT). Where any taxable supply for VAT purposes is made under the Contract by the Supplier to the Client, the Client shall, on receipt of a valid VAT invoice from the Supplier, pay to the Supplier such additional amounts in respect of VAT as are chargeable on the supply of the Services or 12.8 The Client reserves all rights in its Confidential Information. The disclosure of Confidential Information by the Client to the Supplier does not give the Supplier or any other person any licence or other right in respect of any Confidential Information beyond the rights expressly set out in this agreement.

- 14.4 Where the Supplier wishes to terminate the contract, the Supplier shall give no less than 30 days' notice to terminate the Contract or any Service(s) supplied pursuant to it in writing to the Client. The termination of the Contract will take place at the end of the calendar month 30 days after the date that the notice to terminate has been sent by the Supplier.

- 14.6 Without affecting any other right or remedy available to it, the Supplier may terminate the Contract with immediate effect by giving written notice to the Client if:
- (a) the Client fails to pay any amount due under the Contract on the due date for payment; or
 - (b) there is a change of control of the Client.
- 14.7 Without affecting any other right or remedy available to it, the Supplier may suspend the supply of Services or all further deliveries of Equipment under the Contract or any other contract between the Client and the Supplier if the Client fails to pay any amount due under the Contract on the due date for payment, the Client becomes subject to any of the events listed in clause (b) to clause 14.2(d), or the Supplier reasonably believes that the Client is about to become subject to any of them.
